EnSave Exhibits at International Poultry Exposition

Richmond, VT, February 3, 2009

EnSave recently exhibited at the 2009 International Poultry Exposition, held in Atlanta, Georgia January 28-30, 2008.

EnSave Energy Engineer Illari Vihinen and Energy Efficiency Auditor Kyle Clark were in attendance for the duration of the exhibit. While there, they answered questions from attending producers, made contacts with manufacturers and researchers on the front lines of energy efficiency for the poultry industry, and gave a presentation entitled "Increase Profits by Lowering Energy Costs."

"The IPE Convention provides EnSave with a great opportunity to really hone our knowledge about the poultry industry," said Mr. Vihinen. "While we've performed hundreds of farm energy audits for broiler, turkey, and eggs producers, there is always something new to learn. This convention gives us an opportunity to see some of the latest technology while finding out what producers' needs and concerns are."

If you would like more information on farm energy audits, or would like to know how EnSave can work with you, please call (800) 732-1399.

About EnSave:

EnSave supports the American agricultural sector with innovative energy efficiency and resource conservation programs. EnSave provides agricultural producers and food processors with cost effective ways to reduce operating costs while saving energy while conserving our nation's resources. EnSave's clients include state and federal energy and environmental agencies, investor-owned utilities, and rural electric cooperatives. EnSave implements its programs by developing relationships with equipment manufacturers, local equipment dealers, and the local agricultural community. Ultimately, these programs promote economic investment in the rural economy and improve the quality of America's land, air, and water.
